

Village of Islandia Distributes Free Face Masks to Residents

Mayor Dorman gives out a face mask to a resident at Village Hall.

As part of its commitment to the community and to protect the health and safety of its residents, the Village of Islandia distributed more than 3,000 free face masks to residents in over 400 vehicles. The Mayor and village trustees handed them out as residents drove behind Village Hall on six separate evenings. The village has an additional 2,000 masks that will be given out to the residents.

Local Children Have a Chance to Win a Block Party

The village is reminding the children of Islandia that they have a chance to win a block party for their family and neighbors. In order for them to win, children will have to answer as many questions as possible when they take part in a scavenger hunt and an Internet search. The contest ends on Saturday, August 1 at noon.

Participants can go to the website (www.newvillageofislandia.com), click on either the popup that appears on the screen, or the "Games" tab, and take part in the contest. In the scavenger hunt, children will print out a list of riddles and attempt to solve them. For the Internet search, children will log onto the Web, type the clues into the search bar and find the answers online.

Make sure you click on the Games tab, type in your responses (along with your name, street address, phone number and email address) on the online forms and click on "Submit." REMEMBER: Children will require an adult's approval to fill out the information online. The group of people on the same block who submits the most responses will win a block party, courtesy of the village.

The winners will be announced in late August.

To the children of Islandia: good luck, do your best, and, most importantly, have fun!

(PLEASE NOTE: Before taking part in these games, children should ask their parents or guardians for permission.)

Upcoming Events (Dates subject to change)
